

2024 Kansas Economic Policy Conference

Uma Outka
Professor, University of Kansas School of Law

Professor Uma Outka works at the intersection of energy law and environmental law. Her scholarship explores the legal context for energy transitions, with particular interests in energy and environmental justice, renewable energy, and electricity regulation.

Outka joined the University of Kansas School of Law faculty in 2011, served as the law school's Associate Dean for Faculty from 2019-22, and has been recognized for her teaching with the Moreau Award in 2013 (nominated by students), the Immel Award for Teaching Excellence (law school), and the Martin Dickinson Award in 2024 (selected by graduating class). She is an elected member of the American Law Institute, a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation, and recent chair of the Energy and Natural Resources Law Section of the Association of American Law Schools.
