THE CENTER FOR REGIONAL STUDIES

The Center for Regional Studies is an interdisciplinary research organization that was established for the general purpose of contributing toward a better understanding of the process of regional growth and development.

Through the Center's research efforts, useful information is made available to interested persons involved in agriculture, business, education, government, and labor in order that they might have a more factual basis upon which to make planning decisions.

FOREWORD

The fifth edition of the Kansas Statistical Abstract summarizes, as in past years, much of the data available about the state of Kansas. Material has been up dated where possible. Several new tables and charts have been included. These reflect increasing interest by our readers about fiscal information on state and local government.

This issue includes examples of new advances in computer graphics used in social and economic analysis. The computer generated maps reflect the continued effort by the Center for Regional Studies to make the computer more relevant to the need of citizens interested in statewide information.

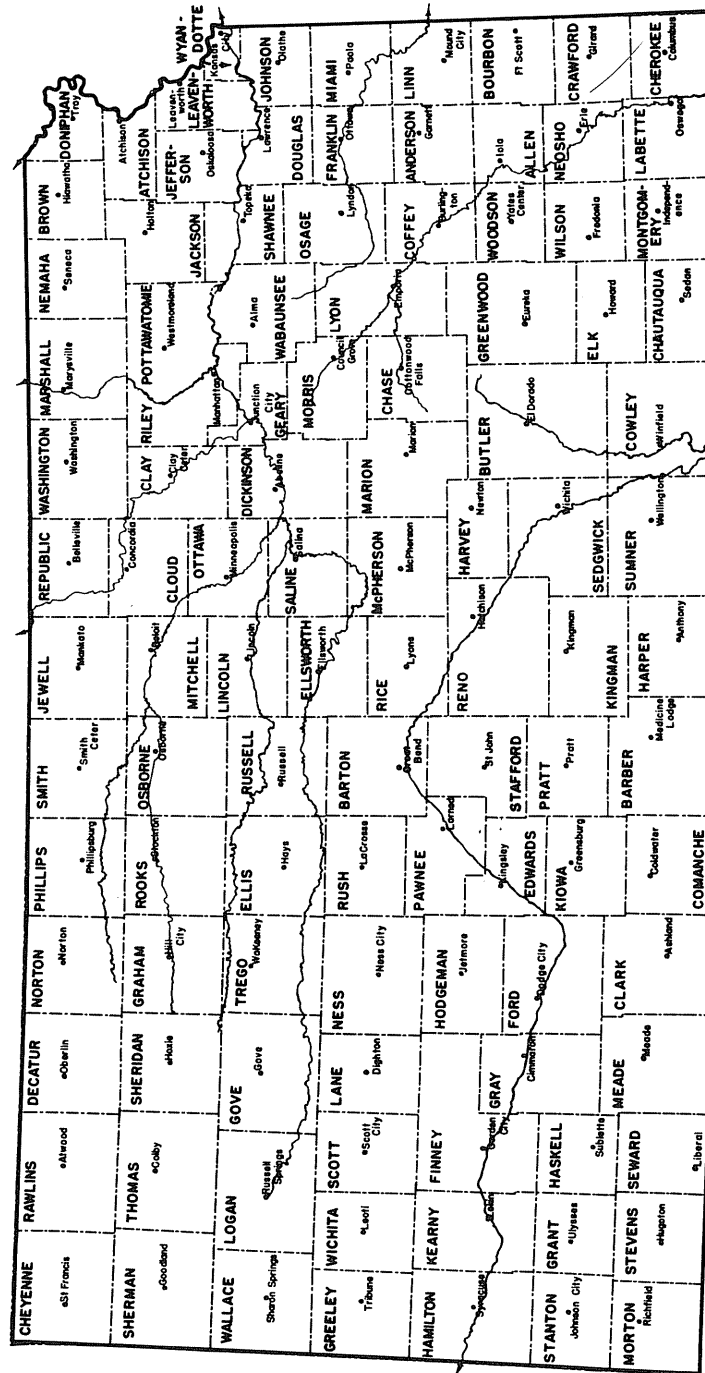

The Center welcomes any comments that our readers may have regarding the latest issue of the Abstract. We are particularly interested in requests for inclusion or deletion of specific information.

Bank debits are "... debits to deposit accounts except interbank accounts. More specifically they include debits at reporting commercial banks, member and non-member, to deposit accounts of individuals, partnerships, corporations, the United States Government, and state and local governments. The figures include debits to time and savings accounts, payments from trust funds on deposit in the banking department, and the payment of certificates of deposit. The figures exclude payments of certified and officers' checks, payments in settlement of clearinghouse balances, charges to expense and miscellaneous accounts, corrections and similar charges, and debits to the accounts of other banks, that is, to interbank deposits."
