

Center for Migration Research

Please join us with honored guest:

Dr. Doris Marie Provine
Arizona State University

Policing Immigrants in Dodge City and Beyond

Wednesday, September 21st

12:00PM, The Commons

Dr. Provine is Professor emerita in the School of Social Transformation at Arizona State University. Her areas of interest reflect her background in law (JD Cornell) and political science (Ph.D. Cornell). Her current work revolves around policies concerning unauthorized immigration. With generous support from the National Science Foundation, for example, she and three co-authors studied how local police are responding to opportunities to collaborate with federal officials in the enforcement of federal immigration law. Results of this research can be found in Policing Immigrants: Local Law Enforcement on the Front Lines ( University of Chicago Press, 2016).